OUR OLD CLOTHES

When people in your country buy new clothes, what do they do with their old ones? Do they throw them away? Of course, they do. Every year, people in Europe throw away a lot of clothes, even though some of them just need small repairs, like a button or a new zip. All this waste has a huge impact on the environment. So, what can we do about this problem? Any ideas, Pierre?

Pierre:

Well, you can do what I did last week and take your old trainers to a cobbler for him to mend. I only paid six euros for my 'new' trainers because the French government gave me seven euros towards the cost. It's a scheme that the French government came up with in 2023 to encourage people to mend their old clothes and shoes. Now, we can all save money and help the environment! Have you got any other ideas, Olivia?

Olivia:

I am happy to say that I have, Pierre. After my friends and I learnt how our old clothes impact the environment, we decided to change our ways. We used to throw away all the clothes we didn't wear, but now we have a 'recycle party'. We all get together in one of our homes and swap our old clothes. If there are any clothes that need repairs, we don't throw them away – we make things out of them. Last week, I made a skirt for my mum out of an old dress. We also use them to make pretty pictures, toys, and bags. Our bags are really popular.

So, what do you think about these ideas?

A SHOPPING TRIP

Hi Jane,

I hope you and your family are well. I wanted to tell you about an amazing shopping trip I went on last Saturday. My sister and I visited a new shopping centre that opened in our neighbourhood. We had so much fun there!

The shopping centre was huge and it had lots of different shops. There were so many to choose from that we didn't know where to start! We decided to go in the clothes shops first. In one of them, I saw two jackets that I liked – one was leather, and the other one was denim. Of course, the leather one was more expensive, but I bought it anyway. After all, leather jackets are always in fashion.

My sister bought a blue hoodie. Luckily, it was in the sales, so it was a lot cheaper than the normal price. She also found some shoes that were both comfortable and trendy.

Shopping trips like this make me so happy. I can't wait to show you my new clothes next time we meet. Maybe we can go to the shopping centre together?

Love,

Lucy

I enjoyed my trip to the shopping centre very much. We really should go together when you visit.

Lucas

Hi Andy,

I hope you're well. I wanted to tell you about a great shopping trip I went on recently. Last Friday, my best friend and I went to the new shopping centre that opened in our town.

CREATIVE WRITING

1

Welcome back to the wonderful world of story writing, everyone! Scarlett and I have come up with some really exciting story ideas for you.

Yes, and we had lots of fun writing them ourselves. Here's the first one that we did.

Imagine that your character found a mysterious suitcase, and write a story about it.

So, did lots of ideas pop into your head? Yes? Well, then you are very lucky. No? Then, like me, you may need a little help. To begin with, I made a few notes on the following questions:

What do you usually pack in a suitcase?

.....

Where would you take a suitcase?

.....

Now here's where you can let your imagination run wild. What is mysterious about your suitcase? Make some notes:

What did it look like?

.....

What did it smell like?

.....

What was inside it?

.....

Where did it come from?

.....

What kind of story do you want to write? Do any of the ideas below appeal to you? If yes, circle it. If not, write your own idea.

adventure

fantasy

science fiction

mystery

My own idea

.....

As for your main character, how do you imagine him, her, or even it to be? What do they look like? What are they like? Remember, it could even be you! Make some notes:

Main character

.....

.....

.....

Always remember that feelings help bring our stories to life.
Make notes on the following question:

How did your character feel when he/she/it found the suitcase?

.....

So, now we have come to the most exciting part - the plot. Make a few notes on what happened in your story. Will there be a villain in it? Think carefully about the ending. Did your character(s) learn anything?

.....

.....

.....
